Hear Dr. Beth Kania-Gosche discuss the past, present, and future challenges of parenting, teaching, working, leading, and preserving mental well-being during the pandemic. She will reflect on her successes and struggles when implementing research-based practices for academic and social-emotional learning, both at home with her children and at work as a professor of education courses. As department chair of S&T’s Teacher Education and Certification Department, Dr. Kania-Gosche will share how her leadership skills were tested as she and her team adjusted to constantly changing circumstances.
